Who's-Who- India - 1927.

Published by Messrs. TYSON & Co., Calcutta.

• Printed at The Calcutta Fine Art Cottage, Calcutta.

MDCCCCXXVII.

FOREWORD.

WHO'S-Who-India in this it's first issue presents by no means a complete dictionary of the biographies of the leading citizens of India. It marks, however, a beginning in the publication of an annual which the publishers believe will prove of real utility to all users of reference books in this country.

Apologies are due to advertisers and subscribers for the delay in publication. It is hoped that future issues will appear earlier in the year and to secure this we invite the co-operation of those gentlemen whose biographies will form the subject matter of next year's volume.

TYSON & CO,

Calcutta, Oct., 1927.

HOUSE FURNISHING

THE general principles which govern the decoration of the home are similar whether it be large or small. The object in view is the production of as pleasing an appearance as circumstances will permit through the expression of individual taste.

OVER a century's experience has given us an unrivalled knowledge of every phase of house furnishing and through our staff of highly trained assistants we offer originality of design combined with perfection in colour harmony and craftsmanship.

St. HILDA'S SCHOOL

HARPENDEN, HERTS.

(HALF AN HOUR FROM St. PANCRAS)

THIS School stands in an exceptionally healthy position in one of the highest parts of Harpenden.

THE School provides a thorough Education on modern lines, combining the care and training of home, with the discipline and advantages of School life.

A LIMITED number of Boarders are taken which ensures careful and individual attention for each, and the object of the School is to help the girls to grow up good, unselfish women, to develop their special powers and to interest them in their studies, so that they will not discontinue them as soon as they leave. Every care is taken of the Pupils' health.

THE neighbourhood is an excellent one for walking and bicycling; tennis, cricket and net-ball are provided for in the School grounds, under the supervision of the Games Mistress. There are garden plots for those interested in gardening.

PUPILS are prepared for Junior and Senior Locals, London Matriculation, Royal Drawing Society's and Associated Board of Musical Examinations, etc.

Fees: From 32 Guineas per term.

Holidays:—By Arrangement.
